Our Team

Atsuko Kakutani (RMT)

Atsuko has studied and practiced Namikoshi Shiatsu since 2002, learned Swedish massage in 2014, and became a registered massage therapist in 2015. Atsuko's health care profession began as a geriatric care worker in Tokyo, Japan. She realized that constant shiatsu/massage treatments were effective for physical and mental wellness and she so chose to pursue a path as a therapist.

Atsuko can customize massage services to include Shiatsu, Swedish massage and Thai massage to adjust for each client's condition, their preferences and their treatment goals.

NAGOMI

Our Team

Megumi Overton (Owner/Esthetician)

Founder Megumi Overton is a wife and mother of two who has been a skin care consultant for more than a decade. Inspired by her experience battling skin problems, Megumi found that the best solutions for skin care lie within nature itself. Megumi was born and raised in Japan. Growing up, her mother had a salon in their home where she created a casual and warm place for her clients. Nagomi is inspired by Megumi's roots and carries on what her mother started. She would like to not only connect with her clients but also support the community.

NAGOMI

Our Products

What we use

Our products are specially imported from Japan and Nagomi is proud to be the exclusive Canadian distributor. Our products are derived from organic Aloe vera and contain no preservatives, fragrances, alcohol, or artificial colours. These products are allergy tested and suitable for all skin types. This miracle plant is one of the oldest known medicinal plants, with a legacy reaching as far back as Cleopatra. Aloe actively helps skin to repair by naturally stimulating cell production and increasing collagen. The gel also contains elastin fiber which, working alongside collagen, firms the skin's matrix, toning and smoothing its appearance. Aloe's natural balance of essential minerals and vitamins enhance its moisturizing, cleansing, and soothing qualities.
